"THE GREEN PASTURES."

"WHAT DID GOD LOOK LIKE?"

We give the following further extract from the negro "morality play" "The Green Pastures":—

"What did God look like, Mr. Deshee?"

"Well, nobody knows exactly what God looked like. But when I was a little boy I used to imagine dat He looked like de Reverend Dubois. He was de finest looking ol' man I ever knew. Yes, I used to bet de Lawd looked exactly like Mr. Dubois in de days when He walked de earth in de shape of a natchel man."

Mr. Deshee, a negro preacher, is telling Sunday-school children about Heaven—to him, as to thousands of simple, devout, coloured folk in the Southern States of America, a tangible Heaven, peopled by happy singing negro angels; Eternity, a series of earthly holidays with endless supplies of fried fish, boiled custard, cigars, or whatever else may appeal most strongly to the negro mind; and God, a just but compassionate patriarch, the consummation of all the earthly virtues His followers have observed in the human beings around them.

The lights grow dim and this Heaven is shown on the stage. God wears a white shirt with a bow tie, a long Prince Albert coat of black alpaca, black trousers, and Congress gaiters, and speaks in a rich deep bass voice.

The miracle of the Creation is wrought, and the Lord visits His newly-created earth. He appears to Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden. To Cain, standing over the body of Abel, he speaks:—"I ain't sayin' you right an' I ain't sayin' you wrong. But I do say was I you I'd jest git myself down de road 'til I was clean out of de country. An' you better take an' git married an' settle down an' raise some chillen. Dey ain't nothing to make a man fo'git his troubles like raisin' a family. Now, you better git."

Cain, in exile, meets a girl, wickedly pretty and somewhat flashily dressed, who has been sitting in a tree.

Cain's Girl: You got two bad lookin' eyes. I bet yo' bot coffee 'mong de women folks.

Cain: I ain't never find out. What was you doin' in dat tree?

Cain's Girl: Jest coolin' myself in de element.

Cain: Is you a Nod Parish gal?

Cain's Girl: Bo'n an' bred.

Cain: You know yo' kinda pretty.

Cain's Girl: Who to? you dat?

Cain: Dese yere tow bad eyes of mine.

Cain's Girl: I bet you say dat to everybody all de way down de road.

Cain: Comin' down dat road I didn't talk to nobody.

Cain's Girl: Where you bound for, Beautiful?

Cain: I'm jest seein' de country. I thought I might settle down yere to a spell. You live wit' yo' people?

Cain's Girl: Co'ne I does.

Cain: 'Spose dey'd like to take in a boarder?

Cain's Girl: Be nice if dey would, wouldn't it?

Cain: I think so. You got a beau?

Cain's Girl: Huh-uh!

Cain [Smiling]: You has now.

Cain's Girl: Guess—I guess, if you wanted to kiss me an' I tried to stop you, you could pretty nearly crush me wit' dem stout arms.

Cain: You wouldn't try too much, would you?

Cain's Girl: Maybe for a little while.

Cain: An' den what?

Cain's Girl: Why 'den' we wait an' see!

Cain: When would dat be?

Cain's Girl: To-night. After supper. Think you kin wait a little further now, City Boy?

Cain: Yeh, I ain't so weary now. [She takes his hand.]

Cain's Girl: What yo' name?

Cain: Cain.

Cain's Girl: Then I'm Cain's Gal. Come on, honey, an' meet de folks.

[They exit.]

[The Choir is heard singing "You Better Mind," as God enters. God watches the vanished Cain and his girl.]

God [After shaking His head]: Bad business. I don't like de way things is goin'.

[The stage is darkened.]

CHICAGO WEARS A NEW SUIT.

SARTORIAL CENTRE OF THE WORLD!

A Chicago newspaper has proclaimed the startling fact that London is no longer the centre of man's sartorial world; that Englishmen like their clothes "sloppy"; and that while we do know "how to carry our clothes" we only do so because "all we have to do is to hunt and play polo—whereas, in Chicago, business men have to work for their living."

I have long wanted to get on equal terms with my tailor. I owe him annually something more than "three figures," and here at last seemed the opportunity—particularly in view of the paragraph in this American newspaper which said that Chicago had become the centre of men's styles, and that the best workmanship belonged once again to Chicago.

I called on my tailor. He read the cutting and smiled. "Trousers, I see, should never be more than eighteen inches around the ankle—otherwise no 'gentleman' could deign to wear them. One moment, sir!"

He bent down and measured my own. "Obviously, sir," he argued, "you cannot agree with that." The measurement was something slightly more than an inch in excess of what Chicago considers correct.

Those Hip Pockets.

He skimmed the rest of the article rapidly. "Plum colour," he read out, "is one of the high notes in fashion. Grey will be used in the fall for overcoats. The fashionable man now shows his shirt collar above his coat collar in the back."

"Permit me," said my tailor, and exhibited to me a host of American garments in the process of being packed up and returned to America. Each one was being accompanied by at least six utterly different garments, born, created, and built in his own workshop.

"Here, sir," he explained, "you see a Chicagoan fashion we have not yet adopted—two hip pockets set to the front capable of holding—shall we say, chewing gum!" He picked up and held at arm's length an obvious Chicagoan pair of American trousers.

"This pocket, sir, is to my mind created for a resident of a country in which the only distilleries that exist are perambulating ones."

"A hat I had left here seems more suitable to a wireless receiving set and a waistcoat to a portable armory."

"However, sir, should you desire to adopt this new fashion and this new decree I shall be only too happy to show you our latest line in evening trousers which permit the carrying of spare machine-gun barrels inside the braiding of your evening trousers."

With that he secreted the Chicago newspaper behind a roll of "Scotch tweeds," which the newspaper itself had blatantly proclaimed would not be worn much this season.

DEAFNESS THAT CAN BE CURED.

SOUND DEADENED BY AIR CURRENTS.

Surprise is often expressed that some deaf people are able to obtain a measure of hearing by treatment while others fail entirely.

The fact is that all deafness is not due to the same cause, and only certain forms of deafness can be helped.

Sometimes the deafness is due to the "receiving part" of the ear, the drum, which gets the pressure of the air against it from the outside and has air coming into the mouth or nose and up a small tube into the ear which makes a pressure against the inside of the drum.

Any inflammation or any growth can interfere with this air, and so the inner side of the drum does not have enough air to counteract the air striking outside the drum. The removal of this irritation or inflammation by medical or surgical treatment, or by the use of the little finger in some cases, allows the air to go up.

Sometimes an infection from bad teeth or tonsils may be causing trouble in the ear, and the little bones, which should move on one another, actually become fastened together almost like one bone. These conditions can also be helped to some extent by the ear specialist.

Another type of deafness, due to excessive bone formation in the ear, is sometimes helped by proper diet and glandular treatment.

THE FATHER OF QUEEN ELIZABETH.

NOT HENRY VIII.—SAYS DEAN INGE.

The remarkable statement that Queen Elizabeth, the greatest woman in English history, may have been illegitimate and had therefore no right to the Crown is made by Dean Inge in the current number of The Eugenic Review.

A careful study of the portraits of Henry VIII.'s putative children has convinced me that while Queen Mary and King Edward VI. reproduce some of their father's features, Elizabeth's face belongs to an entirely different type," writes Dean Inge. "I do not believe that she had a drop of Tudor blood in her veins. If this is true, the flighty Anne Boleyn, and some person unknown, gave us our greatest sovereign."

This suggestion from such an authority as the Dean of St. Paul's will rouse a storm of controversy.

Queen Elizabeth ascended the throne as the child of Henry VIII. and his second wife, the beautiful Anne Boleyn. Henry died Anne Boleyn secretly in January 1536. In the September of the same year Princess Elizabeth, who became the great queen, was born. Anne had one other child, a son, who was born dead in 1534.

Henry's quarrel with his beautiful wife, which led to her execution on Tower Green, is said to have been due to jealousy. In May 1530 the King rode off in a temper from a tournament held at Greenwich because, so the legend goes, Anne Boleyn dropped a kerchief to a lover in the crowd.

One of the mysteries of English history is the finding of the commission which examined charges of adultery brought by Henry against his consort. Among those cited as her lovers were the young Lord Rochford, Sir Francis Weston, Henry Norris, William Beggaton, and a musician called Mark Smeaton. All these men were executed. But the documents relating to the trial have never been discovered.

If Queen Elizabeth had not, as Dean Inge suggests, "a drop of Tudor blood in her veins," who was the father of our greatest queen?

WOMAN'S COOLNESS PREVENTS PANIC.

FIRE AT SALVATION ARMY HOME.

A woman Salvation Army officer's coolness prevented what might have been a panic when fire broke out recently at the Ann Fowler home belonging to the Salvation Army in Netherfield Road, Liverpool. At the time Major Ruth Gill, who is superintendent of the home, was holding a gramophone concert for 80 old women who live in the home. The outbreak occurred in the office, and was discovered by a woman lieutenant of the Salvation Army, who went into the concert-room and informed Major Gill.

Major Gill, excusing herself by saying she was wanted on the telephone, left the room, and wrapping a dish cloth round her mouth, went to the burning office and rang up the fire brigade. She then returned to the room and carried on with the concert. When the fire brigade arrived the old women went out into the street as a precautionary measure and stayed there for about quarter of an hour until the fire had been extinguished. They then came back into the hall where they were wrapped around with blankets to prevent them taking a chill.

R.A.F. DEATHS ANXIETY.

ARE PILOTS FULLY COACHED?

DARING YOUTH'S PLAY.
GROUND IN THE SKY.

Anxiety is spreading among official ranks because of the continued and alarming increase of accidental deaths in the Royal Air Force. Flight-Cadet E. H. Fawkes was killed at Cranwell (Lincoln) by an accident to a machine which he was flying alone. The machine belonged to the R.A.F. College, Cranwell. This death brings the list of fatalities for the ten months of this year to fifty-three—eleven more than the total for 1929, which was forty-two.

Nearly all of the men killed were young officers, or cadets in training, and a great many of the crashes were due to errors in judgment.

The Royal Air Force at the present time is easily the most popular service, and thousands of applications are being received for training. At the same time older pilots who have completed their five-year period of service are being passed out into reserve and the personnel of the Royal Air Force is changing rapidly.

The calibre of the new men is excellent. The standard of fitness is increasing steadily, and the type of these new pilots has been the subject of much favourable comment.

Love of Adventure.

There is, however, the danger that these fearless young men, filled with the love of adventure, are using the skies sometimes as a playground rather than a more training ground; and the matter of discipline and training rules is causing discussion.

"Error in judgment" is a phrase too often mentioned at the inquest after a fatal accident. The inference is that a young pilot or a still younger cadet has not received sufficient coaching.

The Royal Air Force is the one department of the fighting forces which might be considered to be "on active service" all the time. Brave men take their lives in their hands every time they climb into the air. Occasional accidents are the price the pilots pay for their daring and skill. Sometimes they are unavoidable.

A prominent officer told me yesterday that the record of the auxiliary branch of the Royal Air Force was the best example of the manner in which care can be taken in flying.

WORKMEN CUT OFF BY TIDE.

"HUMAN CHAIN" RESCUE.

An unexpectedly high and boisterous tide at Southport recently endangered the lives of three Corporation workmen, who were trapped while engaged in operations connected with clearing sand from a grip or channel on the seaward side of the north marine lake. They were cut off for a couple of hours, and were rescued only with considerable difficulty, owing to the gale and the rough sea.

There is a narrow-gauge track on the seaward side of the grip, and the three men were returning with a motor-tractor and some empty wagons from a dump near the municipal golf links, when they found their progress barred by the incoming tide. The tractor, it appears, came off the track, and the three men endeavoured to right it. While they were doing so the tide came in very quickly, and in a short time was washing over the low boundary wall of the marine lake. The men, anticipating that it would not be long before the tide ebbed, climbed on to the tractor and remained in that position. As the marine lake could not be distinguished from the sea and as Eaton is lame, they thought it inadvisable to wade through the grip and get on to the boundary wall, and as time went on they became drenched to the skin.

Boat Swamped.

Their plight was observed by Colonel Dorgan, superintendent of the convalescent hospital on the promenade, and attempts at rescue were made by workmates of the men and a number of police officers in charge of Inspector Sharp. A boat was obtained, but while being pushed along by men standing on the boundary wall of the lake, which was well under water, the boat was swamped. A rope was procured, and a party of the rescuers tied it round their waists and walked along the top of the submerged wall until they reached a point opposite the trapped men, who were eventually got on to the wall and assisted to safety.

They were in a very exhausted state, and were taken to Byng House Holiday Home on the promenade. Four of the rescuers were also in a state of exhaustion, and were taken to Byng House. Later they were able to be conveyed home.

"The pilots," he said, "are all older men, well trained and experienced and, of course, more cautious. No one wishes to give young fliers to abandon their dash and 'pop,' but supervision of that energy and enterprise should be more exacting. It is the opinion that a change should be made in the existing rules."

THE SILVER SCREEN.

"CHASING RAINBOWS."

Combined talent responsible for the "Broadway Melody" and "The Hollywood Revue of 1929" were joined in the making of "Chasing Rainbows," Metro-Goldwyn Mayer's new all-talking, singing and dancing picture which is now showing at the Queen's Theatre.

Charles King and Bessie Love, stars of "Broadway Melody," are again featured together. Jack Benny, Marie Dressler, Polly Moran, George A. Arthur and Gwen Lee, who appeared in the revue special, are included in the supporting cast.

Charles F. (Chuck) Riesner, who directed the "Hollywood Revue," was at the megaphone in the new feature, an original story of backstage life by Bess Meredyth.

CHINESE ACTOR FOR THE QUEEN'S.

If there is over to be a Chinese male screen star, Gum Chin, a feet tall and 220 pounds in weight, seems to be on his way to achieve that distinction.

The oversize Oriental has a homelike rôle in "A Lady to Love," Vilma Banky's first all-talking production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer which will open shortly at the Queen's Theatre. He interprets Ah Gee, cook for the Italian vineyard owner about whom the story revolves.

Gum Chin has been playing bits in pictures for years but knowledge of English has given him an advantage in talking pictures. Other film appearances include "Shanghai Lady," "The Single Standard," "Shanghai Bound," "Six Days," and "Where East is East."

It has been found that Gum Chin is a natural comedian and the directors are getting laughs with the combination of his unusual size and Cantonese English.

THE NEW LORD BIRKENHEAD.

"I'LL HAVE TO EARN MY OWN LIVING."

Oxford—Lord Birkenhead, who succeeded to the title on his father's death on September 30, has resumed his studies at Christ Church,
where he is in his third year.

He spoke to me to-day of his future and of the Life of his father
he has planned to write, says a correspondent to a London paper.

We had a long discussion which ranged over newspapers, politicians, playwriting, and world conditions
generally, which he thinks are about as bad as they can be.

He impressed me with his shrewdness, modesty, breadth of knowledge, and incisive manner of speech. During the last four years he has travelled a good deal in Germany. He is 22, about 5ft. in height, with dark hair and eyes, and a keen face, with a determined chin,
and has something of his father's powerful physique.

350,000 Words.

He had changed after playing squash rackets and wore a brown tweed plus fours suit and a black tie.

I asked him if he would have to earn his own living, and he said:
"Undoubtedly."

He said he would stay at Christ Church for the next eight months,
during which time, apart from sorting and arranging the documents
that he will use in writing the Life of his father, his studies will take their normal course.

"The Life will probably be in two volumes," he said, "in all 250,000 words. It will keep me occupied for two years, but whether during that time I shall do other work [he is a member of Gray's Inn]—political,
legal or commerce—I do not know,
but it is not likely that I shall practise."

In the House of Lords.

"I intend to take my seat in the House of Lords quite soon, but I am not likely to speak there during the next eight months unless some subject attracts me to an extraordinary degree."

He is conscious of the difficulties
and labour that his father's biography will involve. He dislikes the labour of writing by hand, but has not yet begun to use a typewriter.
"I have three tin trunks full of State documents and papers," he said. The volumes will be illustrated and are likely to contain facsimile letters, among them probably two that stand framed on the late Lord Birkenhead's bookcase.

I asked Lord Birkenhead whether there was not a danger of somebody else writing his father's life before his own was completed. He said, with a smile: "They won't get any material, at all events."

Address Lloyd George.

I gather that his future will depend largely upon offers of careers
that present themselves.

"I am certainly fond of writing,"
he said, "but I do not know that I shall turn to journalism—probably not."

He is keen on the theatre, and discussed the plays of Coward, Lonsdale and Maugham with discrimination. "I think Lonsdale is the ablest of that group," he said.

He has been reading Mr. Churchill's story of his boyhood in the News-Chronicle, and expressed admiration of its vivacity and quality.
"I think Mr. Churchill could have written my father's life better than anybody else," he said.

He regards Mr. Churchill and Mr. Lloyd George as the country's outstanding statesmen and politicians to-day.

Lord Birkenhead reads most of the daily papers, and commented wittily on them.

He has no knowledge of the contents of his father's will, but I understand it was made over 30 years ago, leaving everything to Lady Birkenhead, and that the family will not be particularly well off.

"The Lord Birkenhead," he said, "is being sold. We have no real use for it: it is far too large, and we never liked it."

MYSTERY OF THE MOON.

SIGNS OF VOLCANIC ASH.

Is it possible that the surface of the moon is covered with a layer of volcanic ash—buried, like Pompeii at a subsequent date, by a shower of ashes belched from lunar volcanoes?

Such is the suggestion given as the result of a recent investigation
at the Mendon Observatory in Paris.

Point a "spectroscope"—that instrument that gives you a rainbow band and a lot of interesting information about any glowing object you look at—to any star, and it immediately tells you what gases and metals are burning in its atmosphere.

But do the same thing to the moon or a planet, and it evades the question by telling you not what it is made of, but what the sun is made of. For a planet has no light of its own, and shines by reflecting sunlight.

The "Polariscope."

In Paris they have tried a new method: instead they point at the moon or planets a "polariscope," which does something quite different. This instrument tells you how much of the light from an object is vibrating up and down and how much is vibrating right and left.

In any object that glows of itself—a candle, a coal, an electric light—the vibrations are equal in both directions. But in an object that just reflects light—the side of a house, the sky, a cliff, etc.—there are fewer vibrations in one direction than there are in the other.

The percentage of the vibrations
in the two directions varies according to the angle at which the light is reflected, and this variation in the percentage with changing angle differs from one sort of surface to another—e.g., sand, chalk, granite,
snow and ice are all different.

So the astronomers at Mendon
have investigated many different substances with the polariscope,
and also have studied the light
from the moon and the planets under different angles of illumination
by the sun.

They find that the light from the moon's surface gives an effect that is extraordinarily similar to that of light reflected from volcanic ash blown out of Vesuvius. They have also ruled out, of course, an old theory that the moon is covered with lava, by showing that the light reflected from lava behaves quite differently.

Of course, their investigation is by no means exhaustive. They have not yet tried all possible substances, and it is still on the cards that something else other than volcanic dust might match just as well.

EVEN FLANDERS POPPIES
BEING DUMPED.

At a conference of the South-Western area of the women's section of the British Legion at Falmouth
the Chairman (Mrs. L. W. Elliot) referred to the danger of foreign-made poppies being dumped in the country. She made a strong appeal to members to try to discover popple sellers and poppies. The public, she said, should insist on the poppies being "British" for their sale meant so much to the disabled.

Major C. Watson Smyth, of Falmouth, moved that a resolution be sent to headquarters protesting against the "washing of dirty linen in public" by a Kent branch. He had a newspaper containing the headline: "Sex War in Legion: Women Cause Trouble." He thought that was calculated to bring the Legion into disrepute.
If a branch wanted to do this sort of thing it should be done in private. He knew the value of the work done by the women's section.
Miss Owen, from headquarters,
said there seemed to be a personal difference of opinion between two members of the Kent branch referred to.—The resolution was carried.
Mr. H. E. Giles, of Exeter, spoke on the benevolent side of the work of the Legion, and expressed the opinion that under no circumstances should wayfarers be assisted. Once a man was on the road
he very quickly began to go down.
Many wayfarers posed as ex-servicemen with borrowed papers.
Miss Owen said that there were far too many women outside the Legion, and headquarters were greatly in need of old clothing for distribution in distressed areas.

SIR A. WAISTELL'S APPOINTMENT.

TO BE C-IN-C. AT PORTSMOUTH.

The many friends of Admiral Sir Arthur Waistell, K.C.B., will join in congratulating him very warmly on the news of his appointment (published yesterday by Reuters) to the important post of Commander-in-Chief at Portsmouth.

Sir Arthur has been Commander-in-Chief of the China Station for the past two years and during that time he has proved a very popular and able holder of that position. A keen sportsman, Sir Arthur has several times turned out on the local cricket field and given a delightful display of basmanship and bowling.

Sir Arthur was mentioned in despatches and made a C.B. for his services during the war. Since then he has commanded the Destroyer Flotilla of the Atlantic Fleet and been a Commissioner of the Admiralty and Assistant Chief of the Naval Staff.

Admiral Waistell's home is at Westbury Manor, Fareham, a few miles from Portsmouth. Everyone will wish him as great success in his new command as he has enjoyed in China.

The Portsmouth Command, is regarded as the most important post ashore for a naval officer, after that of First Sea Lord. It is nearly always the last appointment before retirement, though Lord Fisher went on to the Admiralty from the famous dockyard.

Additional Appointments.

Rugby, Dec. 1.

The appointment has been approved of Admiral Sir Arthur Waistell to succeed Admiral of the Fleet Sir Roger Keyes as Commander-in-Chief at Portsmouth, to date from May 8 next.

Rear-Admiral Tomkinson has been appointed Rear-Admiral commanding the Battle Cruiser Squadron, in succession to Vice-Admiral Pound, and Rear-Admiral Astley Rushton is appointed Rear-Admiral commanding the Second Cruiser Squadron in succession to Rear-Admiral Bell, both to date from the end of April next.

Other appointments announced include: Rear-Admiral Reinold is appointed Admiral Superintendent Devonport Dock Yard; Rear-Admiral James to be Rear-Admiral-in-Charge and Admiral Superintendent at Gibraltar; Rear-Admiral Inthurn to be Assistant Chief of Naval Staff; and Rear-Admiral Noble to be Director of Naval Equipment.

ITALIAN CHAMBER ADOPTS BUDGET.

GOVERNMENT TO INCREASE TAXATION.

Rome, Nov. 27.—The budget for the fiscal year 1928-1929 has been discussed by the Italian Chamber. Signor Mussolini, the Finance Minister, pointed out in a lengthy speech that the present economic crisis and depression in taking place not only in Italy but also in countries like France and the United States which are economically stronger.

He added that the Government has no intention to increase the taxation as this step would give a serious blow to the very source of the national economical life. The Chamber approved the budget.

Premier Mussolini received the representatives of the most important banks who reported on different economic and financial questions.

NO FORD FACTORY FOR ITALY.

NEGOTIATIONS WITH ITALIAN WORKS COLLAPSE.

Milan, Nov. 27.—Henry Ford's negotiations with the Italian motor-car works of Isotta Fraschini aiming at co-operation in the production of Ford cars in Italy have definitely broken down because Henry Ford insisted on bringing American specialists and machinery to Italy, a condition which was unacceptable to the Italian Government.

Another difficulty arose from the threat of the Fiat motor-works that they would be compelled to dismiss a large number of their employees if Ford was allowed to swamp the Italian market with his products inasmuch as they would not destroy the whole effect of the recently introduced prohibitive tariff rates.

SCOTTISH COMPANY AT CHURCH PARADE.

ST. ANDREW'S DAY CEREMONY.

The Scottish Company of the Volunteer Defence Corps attended Union Church on Sunday for the annual church parade. The Company assembled at Volunteer Headquarters, and marched to church headed by pipes and drums. Capt. H. R. Forsyth and Lieut. G. Duncan, O.B.E., were the officers in charge.

The congregation at the special service included the Chieftain (Mr. T. H. R. Shaw) and members of the committee of the St. Andrew's Society.

The Rev. E. G. Powell, Minister of Union Church, delivered an inspiring and appropriate sermon on the lessons of St. Andrew's life.

At the conclusion of the service, the company marched back to the headquarters. The pipes were played by Major Macleod and Messrs. K. S. Morrison and H. O. Watson. The Chieftain and Members of the Committee of St. Andrew's Society and their wives were present at Volunteer Headquarters when the company arrived here. Captain Forsyth proposed the toast of the Chieftain. Mr. Shaw made an appropriate reply and toasted the health of the Scottish Company.

MAGIC AT THE STAR THEATRE.

FINE SHOW BY LADY ILLUSIONIST.

A large and appreciative audience at the Star Theatre last night were thrilled with the amazing performance of Mme. Dauphin-Desmonde in her great mystery show which is one of the finest of its kind and one that is unique to Hong Kong.

Among the many attractions she offered was escapes from chains and handcuffs, answers to questions by telepathy and feats of clairvoyance. Mme. Dauphin-Desmonde is supported by a talented company of artists and beautiful girls under the leadership of Teska Hodson, formerly one of the famous Tiller dancing girls.

Altogether the performance last night was a most enjoyable one, being both bewildering and amusing.

A LAUNCHING RECORD.

HOW THE DESTROYER BRILLIANT TOOK THE WATER.

A "record" in the way of warship launches was set up in England when Messrs. Swan Hunter and Wigham Richardson, Ltd., of Wallsend, put afloat the destroyer Brilliant, completed for service in every detail and with steam up in several of her boilers, so that she was virtually under the control of those on board of her from the moment of taking the water. A similar performance was carried out in the United States before the war, when a small cruiser was launched "with her stacks smoking." But, as far as we are aware, the experiment has not been repeated in America, and it is pretty safe to say that it will not become a general practice in England. In the case of a light craft, such as a destroyer or small cruiser, there is no particular difficulty in completing her throughout upon her original cradle. Apart from novelty, there is nothing very noteworthy about such a method of naval construction. From the economic point of view, it would often prove bad business.

The Launching Stage.

The launching stage of a warship is determined by various considerations. A hull can be put afloat as soon as it is placed to above the waterline, or it can be retained upon the building slip until it is completed for sea. To carry out the latter plan presupposes that the slip is not needed for further construction. In warship construction, even more than in commercial building, there comes a stage of progress from which most of the remaining work can be done more economically afloat than upon the ways. This is more particularly the case in big warships, in which very heavy fittings have to be employed. The armament of a destroyer could be got on board upon the slip without much trouble, but to mount the armament of a battleship necessitates planning her under a very powerful crane, and this can only be done when she is afloat.

There is no fixed launching stage for warships; it varies with each vessel according to circumstances and convenience. The constructive manager determines the point of progress at which it will be best to launch a warship. Without wishing to detract from the performance in connection with the Brilliant, it can be added that though a section of the Press appears to have found something really extraordinary in the completion of a destroyer on dry land instead of in the water, there is really nothing whatever extraordinary about it.

PLAIN TALKING IN GERMANY.

RUSSIAN PREMIER WARNS THE REICHSTAG.

Berlin, Nov. 28.—The Prussian Premier, Otto Braun, the noted Social-Democratic leader addressing a big meeting at Dietrichsdorf dealt openly with the question of a dictatorship. "The German Republic faces the gravest winter in its twelve years of existence. Economic obstacles can be removed not by empty phrases but by responsible work only. There are people who cry out for a dictator. What a dictatorship means we have seen in Russia and Italy. The Italian dictatorship has just reduced the salaries of the state employees which were already before much smaller than they are here, by from 12 to 25 per cent. The Reichstag faces a very difficult task and seems little inclined to meet it squarely. If the Reichstag fails to rise to its work then one cannot wonder if the federal government stretches, with a full sense of its responsibility, its constitutional powers in order to extract the country from its delicate situation."

The speech which is attracting the greatest attention in political circles is interpreted as a clear indication that the Social Democratic Party is prepared to support the Brüning Cabinet in applying article 48 of the constitution if the Reichstag fails to produce the necessary majority for the government's financial reform programme.

A Band-Street jeweller declares that West End tradesmen are at any rate thankful for the arrival of the Indian Princess. The Princess buy things in dozens where the ordinary purchaser is content with one article. "To get and keep their custom means good salesmanship and a lot of time spent in waiting. I am sure that one of my chief salesmen is responsible for much wear of the carpets in the lounges of some of the hotels." The tailors' benches and the photographers. The Indian Princess like to be photographed and to give copies of the photographs to their friends.

K SHOES

How perfectly they fit!

And well they may! For by combining two fittings in one shoe—a 3 fitting heel with a 4 fitting forepart, for instance—you get a shoe which hugs the ankle closely. This gives that final touch of elegance and fashion which goes with a slim ankle neatly and snugly housed, without sacrificing the comfort essential for the toes.

That is the secret of the famous K Plus fittings, which actually give extra comfort. The diagram shows what the Plus fitting is.

AMAZING ARCTIC DISCOVERY.

PREHISTORIC BEAST FOUND FROZEN IN GLACIER.

LIKE A DINOSAUR IN SIZE.

[UNITED PRESS.]

Cordova, Alaska, Nov. 27.—The entire scientific world was amazed to-day by the confirmation of reports of the discovery of a huge prehistoric animal in the Arctic regions.

Mr. W. J. McDonald, superintendent of the Chungchuk National Forest, and six others confirmed reports that they have found a prehistoric beast, 24 feet long, frozen in a glacier near Valdez. Mr. McDonald said that the beast he and his colleagues discovered resembles a mammoth lizard. It is more than a dinosaur in size, he said. The beast had a long tail and a tapering head, and much flesh still clings to the skeleton. It is estimated that when alive the animal weighed approximately 1,000 pounds.

Following the confirmation of the reports of Mr. McDonald's discovery the scientific world expressed astonishment because no animals of the type described by the forest superintendent had ever been known to exist in Arctic regions. Also, dinosaurs and other prehistoric animals of that class are supposed to have lived several millions of years before the ice age.

The skeleton discovered by McDonald will be carefully gathered. A large section of the flesh is being preserved for scientific study. The skeleton will be moved to a museum or some other scientific institution.

TRICKSTER CAUGHT.

THEFT DAY AFTER RELEASE FROM GAOL.

Released from gaol as late as Friday last, a Chinese coolie was sent back for a further two months yesterday when he was convicted of obtaining a bag of rice by false pretences.

After his release, the ex-convict went to a rice shop where he gave an order for fifty catties of rice to be placed in two bags to be delivered at a certain address in Cross Street, Hungghom. In due course the grocer sent his assistant to the address with the two bags of rice. Here he was ordered by the trickster to take the smaller bag upstairs. While this was being done, defendant made off with the bigger bag. He was, however, eventually arrested.

When the Police told the Magistrate that the defendant had been serving a prison sentence for a similar offence and had only been discharged on Friday, Mr. Lindell said: On Friday you came out of gaol. On Saturday you steal again. Two months.

THE ALTERNATIVE: A NORSE COMEO.

He came to the end of the passage now. With palpitant heart and a dripping brow. He halted and gazed at the gleaming veil. The bag at the end of his last long trail.

The swords of Pendragon were close behind. The passage was narrow and closely lined. With towering pinnacles white with rime. That lolly alone would essay to climb.

To draw forth his knife and with one sharp thrust To bring down the veil and his course to dust. Or to make one last prayer to the great god Thor, And rush on the swords with a berserk roar!

If he covered the veil that was hung on high, His soul would depart with a shuddering sigh. To fit down the wind all alone, forlorn, With never a hope it would be reborn.

To die by the sword, with a hissing of breath, Would be but a wooing and kissing of death.

So facing the swords, with a knife as his brand, Yarl Ugo ran forward, his life in his hand, And won to Valhalla the bourne of the brave. With a shout he ran and on down to the grave. JOHN WILLIAMS.

CONCERT BY PUPILS OF MR. H. ORE.

MUSICAL TREAT AT CATHEDRAL HALL.

A delightful concert by the pupils of Mr. Harry Ore and the well-known Hong Kong Trio, composed of Messrs. H. Ore (piano), F. Gonzalez (violin), and L. Szente (cello), was held at the Cathedral Hall last evening before a large audience.

The combination and understanding shown by the Hong Kong Trio in the three items given by them well deserved the loud applause accorded. Nothing but praise can be said regarding the numbers played by Mr. Ore's pupils, who are to be congratulated on the convincing manner in which the exceedingly difficult selections were played.

The following was the programme presented:—

THEFT FROM HONG KONG CLUB.

CHINESE GETS EIGHT MONTHS' HARD.

Sentence of eight months' hard labour was passed by Mr. R. E. Lindell yesterday on a Chinese who pleaded guilty to the theft of two electric fans from the Hong Kong Club.

The defendant was arrested in Hennessy Road and when questioned by the Police admitted the theft. It transpired that he had succeeded in pawnbroking one of the fans for $18. The fan was of an ordinary type and as the Magistrate felt that $18 was a reasonable sum to pay on it, no order was made against the pawnbroker.

The defendant, it was revealed, had previously been sentenced to three months' hard labour for stealing clothing from a coolie employed at the Hong Kong Club.

CROWN LAND SALES.

GOOD PRICES REALISED.

New Kowloon Inland Lot No. 2410 attracted considerable attention. Bidding started at $20,000 and by bids of $100 and $1,000 was eventually raised to $51,000, being finally knocked down to Messrs. Wong Ping Wai and Yeung Tin Po, of 62, Des Vaux Road West. The land is situated at Portland Street and has an area of about 15,650 square feet. The annual rental is $172.

Kowloon Inland Lot No. 7425 with an area of about 3,655 square feet was sold to Mr. Chung Chun San, of 217, Cheung Sha Wan Road, for $27,100. The upset price was $12,038. The land is situated at Nan Chang Road and has an annual rental of $30.

ROWING BOAT MISSING.

DIGHY FROM MOTOR BOAT DISAPPEARS.

According to a report made to the Police by the coxswain of the motor-boat Clara, at about 12:30 a.m. on Monday, a small rowing boat, measuring 18 feet by 5 feet, painted white and bearing the name Clara on both sides was taken away by two Europeans while the motor-boat was alongside Queen's Pier.

The boat was not returned up to a late hour last night. It is valued at $50 and is the property of Sir Robert Ho Tung. The Europeans were last seen rowing towards Kowloon.

It is surmised that the Europeans were men who look like boatmen, and a ship in Harbour and then allowed it to drift.

U.S. BANS BULL FIGHTING.

CHARITABLE SHOW FROWNED UPON.

[UNITED PRESS.]

Newark, N. J., Nov. 23.—The Supreme Court of the United States may be called upon to decide whether bull fighting is legal in the United States, it was indicated here to-day. Considerable interest in the controversy over the traditional sport of Spain was created following official action in banning a bull fight scheduled to raise money for charitable purposes.

Officials of Newark declared that to permit bull fighting here would be to condone "animal baiting." It was also declared that not only the bull would be hurt Mr. Mackay said that Sydney Franklin, matador of Brooklyn, might be hurt. Mr. Mackay, the promoter, suggested a compromise fight so arranged that neither Franklin nor the bull would be hurt. Mr. Mackay said that Franklin would demonstrate his skill simply with a cape, not resorting to use of a sword or other weapon. (Also, Mr. Mackay said, the bull fight event would be advertised as an exhibition of skill, courage and speed, to say nothing of grace and dexterity of "both the matador and the bull.")

Mr. Mackay said he will seek an injunction and carry the question to the Supreme Court if necessary.

Franklin, although an American, recently achieved considerable recognition in Madrid, where his skill as a matador made him popular. He returned to America hoping to create public interest in bull fighting, and the charitable show proposed by Mr. Mackay and so vigorously frowned upon by the authorities was designed to further Franklin's programme of building up a public demand for his appearances.

CANTON-WUCHOW
AIR SERVICE.INAUGURAL MEETING AT

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

CANTON, Dec. 1.
The opening meeting inaugurating an air service between Canton and Wuchow was held in the auditorium of the Canton Aviation Department at Tai Sha Tau this morning at 10 o'clock with General Chen Tsai Tong presiding.

The Aerodrome was beautifully decorated for the occasion. An impressive palanquin was erected in front of the building, which was also decorated with flags, banners, and floral designs. Speeches emphasizing the importance of air service as a means of quick transportation were given by the chairman and other high officials of the local Government.

Immediately after the meeting two aeroplanes, each carrying four passengers, made their first trial trip to Wuchow. No charges were made for passengers on this initial trip. Of the eight passengers, four were selected from the Military Headquarters, one from the Provincial Government, one from the Canton Kuomintang, and the remaining two were newspaper reporters.

The two planes will leave Wuchow for Canton this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and are expected to arrive here at about 3 p.m.

The details of this air service relating to the number of trips daily and the fare for each passenger, etc., are still being worked out, and will be announced later.

KWANGTUNG'S CIVIL ADMINISTRATOR.RETURNING TO CANTON
TODAY.

CANTON, Dec. 1.

General Chen Ming Shu is expected to be back in Canton again to-morrow. He left Shanghai for the South last Saturday, and is due to arrive in Hong Kong to-day. He is accompanied by Admiral Chen Chak and others.

A number of high officials of the Canton Government, including Mr. Kin Tsing Ching, Commissioner of Education, Mr. Wo Kuei So, Magistrate of Chungshan District and a member of the Provincial Council, and Mr. Yung Kwei Ching, Superintendent of the Canton Customs, left here for Hong Kong yesterday to welcome Kwangtung's Civil Administrator. The gunboat Chungshan also went to Hong Kong to escort Admiral Chen.

GENERAL CHEN MING SHU.

ARRIVES IN HONG KONG
FROM NANKING.

General Chen Ming Shu, the Chairman of the Council of the Kwangtung Provincial Government, arrived in Hong Kong yesterday by the m.s. Chichibu Maru on his return to Canton from Nanking.

Accompanying General Chen were Admiral Chen Chak, Commander of the 4th Naval Squadron and Mr. Chu Chin Hua, President of the Sun Yat Sen University. They were met by several of the leading government officials in Canton and many local Chinese merchants.

It is understood that H.E. the Governor sent a representative to meet General Chen.

PREVENTION OF PIRACY.SEQUEL TO ATTACK ON HIRUNDO.CAPTAIN FINED IN MARINE COURT.

Capt. John Pedersen, master of the Norwegian steamer Hirundo, which was recently pirated on the voyage between Swatow and Bangkok, was summoned at the Marine Court yesterday for leaving Hong Kong on that voyage without a Police search of the vessel or a certificate. A plea of not guilty was tendered.

Mr. L. H. V. Booth, A.S.P., prosecuting, said that according to the clearance taken out by Capt. Pedersen there were 12 passengers on board, but the case for the prosecution was that more than that number was carried on the vessel. The master of the vessel probably did not understand that the Police did not search cargo boats which carried 12 passengers or less, but a Police search had to be carried out if the vessel carried more than this number.

Giving evidence, Mr. T. Murphy, Chief Detective Inspector, said that he boarded the vessel on her arrival in harbour on November 13. The ship had been pirated and showed signs of having been ransacked. On investigation he found that there were about 250 passengers of whom 19 claimed to have embarked at Hong Kong.

After hearing further evidence, the Magistrate (Hon. Comdr. G. F. Hole) said he was satisfied that the vessel left the harbour with more than 12 passengers.

Capt. Pedersen, in his defence, said that he took out his clearance at noon on Saturday, November 8, at the Harbour Office. Before doing so he understood from his agents that only eight passage tickets had been sold by the office. As far as he knew, there were only eight passengers on board when the ship sailed. The rest must have been taken on board by the compradore without the knowledge of the Company.

His Worship: Adopting this procedure, you immediately nullify all the efforts of the Hong Kong Government to suppress piracy.

Looking up the Ordinance, his Worship said that, strictly speaking, any ship which carried even one passenger had to be searched. He thought that there was something to be said in favour of the defendant. Unless the master of a ship was "in the know," his Worship said, it would be very difficult for him to know whether his ship would be searched by the police.

There was no doubt that Capt. Pedersen was guilty of the offence he was charged with, but his Worship admitted that there were some peculiar circumstances in the case and imposed a nominal fine of $25.

NEW ANTI-PIRACY RULE.

PROTEST FROM LOCAL
"OFFICERS' GUILD."

As an interesting sidelight to the above prosecution is the effect created in shipping circles by a regulation appearing in the Government Gazette imposing fresh obligations on shipmasters to prevent piracy. The regulation, which appeared in our columns yesterday, reads:—

"1st.—The master or other person in charge of a ship shall take effective measures to ensure, and he shall ensure the movements of his ship to be in accordance with those regulations, and he shall take effective measures to prevent, and he shall prevent the coming on board or embarkation of any person and the bringing on board of anything contrary to or not in accordance with these regulations."

On enquiry from Capt. T. T. Laurensen, Secretary of the China Coast Officers' Guild, our representative was informed that the regulations had been passed without protest, which was at variance with the assurances given by His Majesty's Government in the past. The onus (Continued at foot of next column.)

CLAIM FOR LIGHTERAGE
COMPANY.

At the Summary Court yesterday, the Po Chun Company, of 84 and 65, Connaught Road Central, sued the Texas Company (China), Ltd., for lighterage work in transferring gasoline from the s.s. Golden Sun to the godown. A sum of $540.98 was claimed for lighterage charges, and $399.03 for demurrage incurred in landing the cargo. A counterclaim for $71.05 was admitted, reducing the claim to $871.96. Mr. T. G. Bennett appeared for the plaintiffs and Mr. H. J. Armstrong defended.

The managing partner of the plaintiff firm stated in evidence that he had done lighterage work for the Company before in Canton, but it was the first occasion on which he had transported gasoline from ship to godown. He agreed that the defendants had told him not to use big lighters as they slowed up work at the pier head. Witness explained that he had to use two big lighters on this occasion owing to bad weather in which small lighters were not safe.

Witness did not agree with a suggestion that the demurrage was largely caused by the two large lighters obstructing the operation of other lighters at the pier head. He admitted, however, that only 650 drums were unloaded from one lighter in three whole days, explaining that the weather conditions were against him.

The case was adjourned.

PRETTY WEDDING IN KOWLOON.FLIGHT-LIEUT DENNIS—MRS.
V. M. BOND.

Yesterday the marriage was solemnized of Flight-Lieut. Stanley David Dennis, R.A.F., elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis, of Thorpe Bay, Essex, and Mrs. Vera Margaret Bond, eldest daughter of Mrs. Harry Woods of Hong Kong. The Rev. Horace Johnson officiated.

The bride was prettily attired in horizon blue trépe de chine with hat to match bearing the gold badge of the Royal Air Force. She carried a bouquet of golden chrysanthemums tied with the Royal Air Force colours.

Comdr. J. H. P. Southby acted as "best man," and the bride was given away by Mr. E. R. Child. Mrs. Child, who acted as matron of honour, was attired in beige georgette and lace, with petunia felt hat, and a bouquet to match. Mrs. Harry Woods, mother of the bride, wore black georgette and lace over heliotrope crépe de chine, and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

No invitations were issued, but many guests attended at the church and reception held at 58, Nathan Road.

Many handsome presents were received. The honeymoon is being spent at the "B and S" bungalow at Fauling.

of preventing pirates boarding a ship was now specifically thrown on the master. If it was seriously suggested that the master or his officers had to be at the gangways to search everybody coming on board, then the thing was absolutely impossible. A more serious position created by the regulation was that the master of the vessel was liable to be charged for manslaughter if the vessel was pirated with loss of life after she had been searched by the police prior to departure.

Capt. Laurensen commented strongly on the endeavour made by the Police to revive the 1827 Anti-Piracy Regulations which were withdrawn as a consequence of opposition by the Mercantile Marine. In technical matters affecting shipping the Harbour Department should have control, and regulations of this kind should be made through them, but it seemed that this control was being taken away by other departments.

Capt. Laurensen added that he had lodged a strong protest against the new regulation with the Colonial Secretary, and he would be in touch with this official to the afternoon, when he was informed that he had not placed the proper interpretation on the wording of the regulation.

ST. VINCENT DE
PAUL.OVER $4,400 FROM SALE
OF ROSES.FINE WORK BY LADY HELPERS.

The annual street sale of roses organized by the Society of St. Vincent de Paul yesterday had very satisfactory results, and it is expected that the total amount collected with be at least equal to if not higher than year's figure. The total at 1 p.m. yesterday was $4,237, but this does not include several collections from outlying districts which were received later in the day.

The sale was well organized, and there were few places in town that were left unpatrolled by the untiring band of lady and girl workers, and by noon there were very few to be seen who were not wearing a rose.

POLICE RESERVIST'S GOOD WORK.TACKLES FIVE MEN AND CATCHES ONE.

Sentence of six months' hard labour was passed by Mr. R. E. Lindsell yesterday on a Chinese who was captured by Mr. A. J. Raptis, a Police Reservist and cycle branch manager of the Dunlop Rubber Company.

It will be recalled that the man was caught with a number of intruders in a godown at Wanchai, a special alarm connected between the godown and Mr. Raptis' house giving the burglar's away.

In the course of his evidence, yesterday, Mr. Raptis stated that when he heard the alarm he seized his revolver and after unloading it went down to the godown. He saw five men, all of whom ran for the door and managed to get past him, in spite of the fact that he hit each one on the head with the butt end of his revolver.

The arrested man was last to leave the premises. He was struck on the head no fewer than ten times and it was only after a fairly long struggle that he began to weaken.

Defendant: I don't know anything about it. I never went inside. I was passing along the street.

Mr. Raptis (in reply to his Worship): I never lost sight of this man. I am certain of him, and I can swear that he is the man.

Voluntary Statement.

A Chinese detective stated that when the defendant was taken back to the premises for enquiries with Sergeant Lamont and the complainant, he said voluntarily: "As I passed by the coolies asked me to go in and examine numbers."

Defendant: That is true. His Worship asked if the prosecution was bringing any evidence to bear on the fact that defendant was hit on the head.

Sergeant Lamont said that he examined the defendant at the Station, and found only one minor bump on his head.

His Worship: What! Ten times hit on the head with the butt end of a revolver, and only a bump!

Sergeant Lamont: Well, they must have been rather light hits.

Asked why he was out in the streets so early in the morning, defendant said that he was going to see a doctor. He had to rest at the place because his legs were weak.

His Worship convicted and passed sentence of six months' hard labour.

TUTELAGE.

CHINA is now in the stage of political tutelage prescribed by the late Dr. SUN YAT SEN, as the proper preliminary to the full accomplishment of his programme of modernisation. It is not surprising, therefore, that the Nanking Government has laid down a code of Press laws virtually imposing a fairly rigid censorship over newspapers and periodicals. The objections to such a course are well known. English Liberal thinkers, from such strongholds of their faith as Manchester, have stated the arguments over and over again. But what may be fundamental in modern England
may have no application in China, nor, indeed, has England always enjoyed the freedom allowed in the twentieth century. Queen ELIZABETH amputated the hand of one premature apostle of the liberty of the Press, and not long after WILLIAM PYNNE, the Puritan pamphleteer, lost his ears and was branded with the letters S. L., which stood for Seditious Libeller. Deaf, the talented author of Robinson Crusoe, Religious Courtship, Moll Flanders
and many other edifying works, was put in the stocks. These incidents are recalled, not as a hint to the Chinese authorities as to the British methods of dealing with rebellious scribes, but as a reminder to European readers that China is doing now what our own nation has often had to do, and that liberty did not always flourish in our native land as gloriously as it does to-day.

Chinese newspapers and periodicals are not allowed to attack
either the Kuomintang or the Sun Min principles. Comments on the Nationalist party, except of a laudatory nature, will presumably be confined to official circulars like that recently issued by the Central Executive Committee. The document in question showed no disposition to refrain from speaking to members for their own good, but that privilege is evidently earmarked as an official monopoly. Seditious one is glad to see, will not be tolerated any more than it was in England in the days of the worthy Mr. PYNNE. Good morals are to be protected, which will no doubt improve the tone, if it lessens
the liveliness of certain Chinese publications.

But the clause that will bear heavily on the editor, and his responsible assistants, is that the publishing of incorrect news renders a newspaper liable to a fine of $200.

This is not to say that the full penalty will be enforced every time
a name in misprint or the first account of some event has subsequently to be modified. But this particular rule will, if at all actively administered, hang like the sword of Damocles over the newspaper editor. Newspapers cannot be accurate. Serious historians writing at leisure find the task difficult enough, and their mistakes are notorious. The newspaper is the chronicler of what comes to hand, and the editor has mainly to rely on luck and instinct in guessing where truth lies. Does this order mean, moreover, that two contradictory stories of an event may not be published side by side with appropriate comment? Must "stop press" telegrams be withheld for verification next day, or never? No Government approves of the quality of brightness in a newspaper. The British official standard of journalism was, during the War, reflected in the official bulletins, and to-day as yesterday we have the blue books to show us how matters of public interest should be presented to the public. The official mind feels that when the Press departs from such standards it is liable not only to criticism but even to ridicule properly appointed authority.

Turning for a moment to the serious aspect of the matter, the Chinese Government is wise to secure the principles upon which its policy is based, and the party to which it looks for support, from irresponsible attack. This tutelage will help the Chinese Press to learn the lesson of newspapers of Europe and America. We are sure that the Press, like the mass of the Chinese people, will loyally abide by the restrictions which the Government has to impose during a time of the greatest national difficulty.

KEEPING IT IN THE FAMILY.

It is an ill wind that blows no one
any good and a recent intimation of the Turkish Government to the British Admiralty that they cannot sanction the regular visits of the Mediterranean Fleet to the Aegean Islands, over which they claim sovereignty, will probably react very favourably on the British Island of Cyprus. The Turkish point of view is not unreasonable. If Turkish warships developed a habit of coming to the Scilly Islands regularly every year, it is safe to assume that there would soon be an emphatic expression of opinion in Great Britain. Cyprus as a consequence of Angora's action will receive more attention from the Mediterranean Fleet than in the past and her traders will benefit proportionately.

The scheme for the development of Famagusta Harbour in that little-known island is expected to cost at least a million pounds by the time it is completed, and it is now making good progress. Large oil reservoirs are being erected by private enterprise with the approval of the British Government, and it is safe to say that private enterprise
does not launch out without definite prospects. In the event of our further relaxing our military hold upon Egypt, the strategic importance of Cyprus would be much enhanced, since it occupies a dominating position in relation to the naval defence of the Suez Canal.
Nor are the Italian projects for establishing a naval base and a "zone of influence" in the Levant to be ignored. Probably the intimation of the Turkish Government to our own Government may prove to be all for the best. It seems reasonable to ask why we want to make use of other people's islands when we have got such a fine one of our own, needing only development on lines which present no serious difficulties in order to convert it into a first-class naval base? The development of first-class naval bases is not a popular idea just now, but Turkey has furnished the Admiralty with a very legitimate plea for urging the adaptation of Cyprus to the needs of the Mediterranean Fleet.

★ News and Views ★

The Victoria Cross awarded to Private Duncan Miller, of the Black Watch, for gallantry in the Indian Mutiny, has been sold in London for £62.

A racehorse named Naughty Nan,
ridden by the jockey Langlement,
crossed her legs during the race for the Prix de L'ère at Lyons and brought down eight other horses, injuring all the jockeys.

When told at Marylebone that a woman charged with theft said she preferred prison to a home under a probation order, Mr. Hay McKel-the magistrate, remarked: "Of course, Holloway is so comfortable
now it is a hotel de luxe."

Pola Negri's Confessions!
As soon as the proceedings for her divorce from Prince Mowat are announced, Miss Pola Negri, it is expected, will publish a book containing her "Confessions." "I am going to tell everything," she said in an interview in her Paris apartment,
"beginning with my marriage with a Polish nobleman into which my mother forced me when I was 17. I am going to tell the truth about my life and loves."

Outside Edge.

The latest Oxford University notice reads:—"Undergraduates in statu pupillari are permitted to use the new skating rink on any day between the hours of 2.30 and 5.30.
They may not use it at any other time." "This is the outside edge,"
said an undergraduate to a press-
man. "Many of us want to play football during the afternoon, not to spend it in a skating rink. Yet if we want to skate it means that we must sacrifice outdoor sport."
There seems no limit to grand-motherly legislation here.

Real Life Tarran.

Lucas, South Africa's living Tarzan of the Apes, who was brought up in babyhood by wild baboons, has learned to talk English and now works on a farm near Port Alfred, South Africa. He is tremendously powerful. He can use a 14lb. hammer in the blacksmith's
shop and turn a heavy lathe all day long without showing the slightest sign of fatigue. Lucas states that he has no ambition to return to the bushes; they were too fond of hitting him on the slightest pretext.
Lucas, when a tiny baby, was sleeping on the edge of a mealie patch
in the Koonap district of the Cape, while his mother was hoeing, when a troop of baboons stole him. Nothing was heard of the infant for several years. One day a police patrol fired on some baboons on a kopje. The baboons fled, leaving one of their number less agile, behind. On approaching, the police were amazed to find it was a native
youth, naked and gibbering.

eighty-three and seventy-eight respectively, of Grosvenor Terrace, Crowe, who recently celebrated their diamond wedding, state that they have so many grandchildren that they cannot count them.

Lively interest has been created in Paris by the publication by the Daily Express of a statement announcing the creation of a Fourth International, under the direction of Trotsky, and controlled by Stalin, to work towards a modification of the Communist International.

Socialist Lord-Lieutenant.

Sir Charles Trevelyan is the new Lord-Lieutenant for Northumberland, and the first Socialist Cabinet Minister to hold a Lieutenancy.
He becomes the King's representative at State functions within the county. The late Duke of Northumberland, whom Sir Charles succeeds,
was one of the eleven dual Lords Lieutenant. A title is not a sine qua non for the post. There are in Great Britain fifteen untitled holders.

Bruno at Bay.

Villagers at the foot of the Mong
Koo Shan Mountains, in the Yangkang district have recently been complaining that a number of fowls and domestic animals had been disappearing at night. The presence of a tiger was suspected,
and a large party, armed with rifles and the usual miscellany of weapons produced on such occasions, set out to scour the hills.
Near the summit of the highest mountain they suddenly came upon a bear of most unusual size. The beast sprang on one of its number, and in an instant, had thrown him to the ground, badly mauling his face and shoulders. A volley of rapid fire soon despatched the beast, and the wounded man was carried home in a critical condition.

Hitler in a Novel.

Lion Feuchtwanger's new novel
"Success" appeared in England on November 6. It will make an appeal to those many readers who like their novels to be long and fat. For Dr. Feuchtwanger has gone one better than Mr. Arnold Bennett or Mr. Priestley, and has produced a full two volumes containing as much as one thousand pages of print. And it is all about Bavaria, since the war and the madness of men like Hitler and Toller. The topical interest aroused by the first book in which Adolf Hitler figures as a living personage
may induce many readers to plough through both volumes. And the theme of the book, the intermin-able futility and grandeur in all human affairs, should provide something more than a purely topical interest.

The Police attacks on the German minority have now extended to Pomerania, the province in the Polish Corridor. In the city of Thorn a number of Germans were badly injured when Polish lationmist bands stormed and destroyed
the German clubhouse.

The Soviet Government has approached the Polish authorities with a proposal to open a new Soviet Consulate for Western Poland with its seat in Katowitz in view of the fact that during the past few months economic relations between the Upper-Silesian heavy industries and the Soviet Communists for foreign trade have steadily grown in importance, according to Trans-Ocean-Kuo Min.

Lord Nelson's Wife.

While Lord Nelson's monument in Trafalgar-square, London, was dedicated on Trafalgar-day (October 21) and was the centre of much interest, the great admiral's wife, Viscountess Nelson, was not entirely forgotten. Rev. S. A. Woodward (Dorset) ordered a wreath to be made and placed on her grave in the little churchyard at Littleham-pton, near Exmouth. The wreath was inscribed: "To the memory of Viscountess Nelson, a good woman and a faithful wife." It is believed that this was the first time a wreath had been placed on the grave for 25 years.

Recruiting Naval Officers.

The Admiralty has appointed a committee to examine the question of widening the field from which cadets are drawn to the Navy.
Captain Sir Ernest N. Bennett,
M.P., will be chairman of the committee. This is by no means the first time the question of widening the field from which naval officers are entered has been raised. At present cadets are entered through two channels—the Royal Naval College, Dartmouth, and direct from public schools. Apparently the suggestion has again been made, that candidates from secondary schools should be considered. Such a scheme would have to include an official allowance to cover the cost of living until the rank of lieutenant was reached.

Newspaper Advertising the Best.

For the first time in their history
the London Midland and Scottish Railway have started a campaign in the Press to advertise the various activities of their freight department. "In formulating this scheme,"
the advertising and publicity officer of the L.M.S. Railway states, "it was decided that the majority of the allocation should be spent in Press advertising, because I am convinced that for whatever kind of advertising newspapers are the best.
We have never previously used daily newspapers for our freight traffic announcements, but I am confident that results of our new venture will justify the decision we have taken."
The scheme embraces several lines of freight traffic business, including warehousing, freight services, rail-head centres, radial delivery, and transport by containers.

Three cases of typhoid, one non-

The weekly health returns show
one case of typhoid and one of

Dr. A. Manarro, Portuguese Minister to China, was a passenger on the s.s. Kamo Maru which arrived in Hong Kong yesterday.

The rainfall for last month in Hong Kong was only 0.7 inches,
which was registered on November
1. The was no rain on the other 29 days.

The forthcoming wedding is announced of Mr. Edgar Reginald Collier, of the Chinese Maritime Customs, to Miss Gabrielle Devien-ne, of No. 4, Penco Buildings, Hankow, Kowloon.

Owing to unforeseen circumstances the time for Mr. G. W.
Rever's lecture to the Education Society of the University on "Some Difficulties in Education" will be changed from 4.30 p.m. on the 6th of December to 5 p.m. on that day.

A Chinese woman living at 17, Hollywood Road was removed to the Government Civil Hospital yesterday suffering from the effects of a dose of opium. It is believed that the woman attempted to commit suicide.

Three Chinese were brought before Mr. Butters at the Kowloon Magistrate on a charge of being in possession of 11 gallons of Chinese spirit on which duty had not been paid. It was stated that the defendants were arrested on the Jardine's wharf. On one of the defendants, undertaking full responsibility he was fined $200; the two were discharged.

Sentence of six weeks' hard labour or a fine of $50 was imposed by M. Butters at the Kowloon Magistrate yesterday on two Chinese women who were charged with keeping undesirable houses on the first floor of 28, Temple Street and 216, Temple Street respectively.

A report has been made to the Police to the effect that silver ware and other articles valued at $30 have been stolen from Mrs.
Kawana's residence at Conduit Road. It is believed that the thief or thieves entered the dining room
through a window which was left open.

For the unlawful possession of a quantity of tobacco on which duty had not been paid, a Chinese woman was fined $100 by Mr. Williams at the Central Magistrate yesterday. It was stated that the woman was arrested coming off the steamer Sai On with the tobacco hidden in some ratan baskets.

The case in which Li Tsan Pui,
clerk and interpreter at the Police Headquarters, is being charged with having attempted to obtain a sum of $30 from a licensed hawker was again mentioned before Mr. Williams at the Central Magistrate yesterday when the hearing was fixed for this afternoon. Mr. M. K. Lo is appearing for the defendant.

At the V.R.C. bath on Sunday,
Mr. James Stewart, the secretary of the Club was successful in his test for the highest award of the Royal Life Saving Society—the full diploma. Mr. R. J. Hunt, local instructor and representative of the Society, supervised and awarded the competitor full marks—the maximum number of points being 20 in 100. This was the first time on record that a local competitor
has returned such a result and Mr.
Stewart is to be heartily congratulated on his achievement.

Before Mr. E. H. Williams at the Central Magistrate yesterday, a Chinese was charged with the theft of a gold ring mounted with jade and a pair of gold rings from Messrs. Komr & Komr, the curio-dealers. The defendant was remanded for 48 hours.

Looking Back 25 Years.

The following story comes, it is hoped, not too long after St. Andrew's Day. It is of a Scotsman on his way to England from the Far East by a line where tips are imperative, but which (writes the narrator) nothing will include me to name. He called the table steward to him as the vessel neared Southampton and drew forth a fat leather purse. Extracting therefrom a shilling, he examined it lovingly and passed it over to the man. "Here, my fine lad," he said, "in something for yourself."
The steward took the coin, glanced at it, coloured with indignation, and passed it back. The Scot received it with obvious relief. He smiled, "ye're a braw laddie, an'
I admire your independence!"
—Hong Kong Daily Press, December
2, 1905.

Looking Back 50 Years.

The Chinese Government have,
through their real and supposed incapacity and fecklessness, managed to get a great deal done for them by the foreigners they affect so much to despise. It was by foreign aid that the terrible and devastating Taiping Rebellion was at last suppressed, and internal peace
restored to the distracted Empire.
It was due to the efforts, long continued and chiefly disinterested, of the gunboats that piracy has been almost extinguished along the coast and a security from danger undreamed of in any previous period
of Chinese history. —Hong Kong
Daily Press, December 2, 1880.

The firm which held the original contract stopped the work of heightening the dam, owing to the alleged incompetent interference with the resident engineers by the staff of the Egyptian Government. ON U.S. RECORD.

[UNITED PRESS.]

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 27.—By the slim margin of only 30 miles Mr. Gerald Nettleton, 20 years old aviator of Newark, New Jersey, failed to-day to establish a new junior east-to-west transcontinental flight record.

When only 30 miles from his goal here Mr. Nettleton, after having made an excellent flight across the continent from Newark, was forced to jump to safety in his parachute, thereby becoming a member of the caterpillar club.

Nearing San Diego Mr. Nettleton lost his way in the fog. Soon his gasoline supply became exhausted. Because of poor visibility he was unable to glide to a landing and was forced to take to his parachute and abandon his aeroplane. The aviator suffered no injuries.

GENERAL DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE.*UNITED STATES TO

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.
The conclusion of the work of the Preparatory Commission on Disarmament next week is predicted in despatches from Mr. Hugh Gibson received yesterday.

Mr. Cotton, Acting Secretary of State, said that the deliberations of the Commission had proceeded generally along the lines expected, and there was nothing to prevent the United States from participation in the projected general disarmament conference.

He added that there would probably be reservations covering some items of discussion in which the United States could not participate.

Mr. Cotton did not indicate what they were, but it is understood that they concern particularly the proposal of limitation of armaments on the basis of budget appropriations.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

Britain's Lead.

ROME, Nov. 30.
The Foreign Secretary, Mr. Arthur Henderson, speaking at Cardiff yesterday, referred to the situation regarding disarmament. Under the terms of the general act of arbitration, which he indicated Government were accepting, every dispute would be referred to an impartial arbitral tribunal.

He added: "As a result of discussions at the Imperial Conference we may now hope that all self-governing Dominions will act with us in taking this new and far-reaching step."

"The British Commonwealth having given the lead in this great matter, the other Powers, I am certain, will follow their example. We shall then have made another great step forward toward the completion of other systems of safeguards against war."

On world disarmament the Government were also in complete accord with the Dominions. The Preparatory Commission on Disarmament at Geneva had been making very satisfactory progress and we could not appreciate too highly the work of Lord Cecil. He continued: "We must have some limitation of main power to be maintained if disarmament freely comes into operation. We must have publicity so that we know what the Governments are doing. We must have some sort of supervision and control by an impartial League of Nations Commission, whose task it shall be to ensure that the limits included in the disarmament treaty are not infringed or exceeded in any way."

"After the first five years the disarmament treaty will be subject to revision, and if the experience of the first five years shows that the treaty needs improvement, we shall be in the happy position to set about making that improvement. When we have the work of the Preparatory Commission completed we hope before many months there will be a fixed disarmament conference representing the whole world."

In spite of the chaotic conditions, Mr. Oberg is attempting to get through to the ladies.

Mr. Andrew and his rescue party, which left Peiping yesterday, are due at Paotouchen to-night.

ROME.*COMPLETE AGREEMENT REPORTED.

[UNITED PRESS.]

ROME, Nov. 27.—Rushdy Bey, the Turkish Foreign Minister, arrived to-day from Geneva and was met at the station by Signor Grandi, the Italian Foreign Minister, accompanied by high officials of the Foreign Office, and by the Turkish Ambassador and his staff.

He went first to the Quirinale and was received by the King, and afterwards to Palazzo Chigi, the Italian Foreign Office, where he conferred with Signor Grandi on the friendly relations between the two countries and on their political and economic problems.

Complete agreement between the two statesmen has been reached on the different questions discussed.

This evening Rushdy Bey will be received by Premier Mussolini, and the Italian Press gives prominence to the visit of the Turkish Minister and forces that it will strengthen the friendship between the two countries. This friendship constitutes one of the most essential elements for maintaining the peace in Europe notwithstanding the wrong interpretations and the lively comments of the European press. Only recently Italian mediation was able to put an end to the strained relations between Turkey and Greece.

ROUND-TABLE CONFERENCE.*HINDU-MOSLEM "CONVER-SATIONS" BREAK DOWN.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Dec. 1.
The "conversations" between the Hindu-Moslem delegates to the Round Table Conference have broken down.

Hitherto there have been separate Moslem and non-Moslem constituencies for the existing provincial legislatures. The Hindus now demand joint electorates, which the Moslems contend would give the Hindus a preponderant strength in the majority of cases.

It is understood that the Aga Khan, on behalf of the Moslems, has intimated that the Moslems are unanimous in standing by an irreducible minimum of 14 points.

This question was drawn up at the Moslem Conference at Lucknow last year.

The Hindus state that there will be no more Hindu-Moslem negotiations, but all questions of the position of minorities will be dealt with by the Federal Relations Committee.

Burmah Separation.

ROOBY, Dec. 1.
It is understood that the delegates for Burma to the Indian Round Table Conference will ask for an early consideration of the question of the separation of Burma as a meeting of the Committee of the whole Conference to be held this afternoon.

It will be recalled that the Simon Commission, impressed by the strength of the Burman sentiment in favour of separation and by the constitutional difficulty of giving Burma a satisfactory place in any centralized system on the lines of responsible Government in British India, came to the conclusion that: "Nothing but the most overwhelming considerations could justify the continued retention of Burma within the Government of India."

The Government of Burma support separation, and the Government of India, in a recent despatch, accept the principle of the assumption that there would be an equitable financial settlement with a safeguarding of the respective economic interests of the two countries.

A despatch adds the proviso that there should be ample opportunity for Indian opinion to declare itself, and asks that the whole question should first be discussed at the Round Table Conference.

If the representations from the authorities mentioned are acted upon the presence of the Burma delegates on the various sub-committees set up to deal with matters referred to the Federal Relations Committee will be superfluous, and it is for this reason they at this stage have raised the question.

The sub-committees appointed to consider the first and second of the heads of the subjects of Lord Chancellor Sankey met this morning.

It is understood that for the present the informal discussions for the adjustment of Hindu-Moslem views and relations which have been proceeding for the past three weeks have been discontinued.

It is stated that the "conversations" have resulted in little real progress in the matter of communal representations.

In informing the Hindus that they proposed a discontinuance of the discussion on the question of separate electorates the Moslem delegates, it is stated, have expressed their willingness to discuss other outstanding questions.

BREMEN DIET ELECTIONS.*ADVANCE BY THE NATIONAL SOCIALISTS.

BERLIN, Dec. 1.
The National Socialists obtained 32 seats in the election to the Diet of the Free State of Bremen, compared with two held formerly.

The Communists gained two seats.

All the other parties lost seats, for instance, the Social Democrats have now 40 compared with 50 previously held.

COAL CRISIS IN BRITAIN.*EVERY PROSPECT OF TEM-PORARY SETTLEMENT.

LONDON, Dec. 1.
Work ceased in the majority of the Scottish coal pits last night.

Pickets are out in full force to-day, but according to Mr. James Doonan, President of the National Union of Scottish Mine Workers, there is every prospect that a temporary settlement will follow to-day's meeting of the Coal Conciliation Board and the Scottish owners' and miners' representatives at Glasgow.

Increase in Price of Domestic Coal.
The first effect of the stoppage at Glasgow was an increase of 1½d. per cwt. in the price of domestic coal.

Federation Secretary Hopeful.

LONDON, Nov. 30.
Mr. A. J. Cook, after telephoning to the Scottish miners' officials, said that it was impossible to prevent a stoppage to-night or to-morrow, but there will be a conference of Scottish delegates to-morrow, after which he hoped to get the men to resume work pending Thursday's national delegate meeting in London, which, it is generally believed, will reverse Friday's decision against a "spread-over" of hours, so as to avert a national stoppage.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

All Areas Except Scottish Continues.

RUOBY, Nov. 30.
It is now certain that all the mining areas except the Scottish coal fields will continue as usual to-morrow.

Scottish Shifts Cease.

In Scotland the Union of Scottish Mine Workers decided on Saturday to cease work from to-day. Consequently, the shifts did not descend the mines this afternoon, but there is strong hope that the meetings fixed for to-morrow morning will result in an arrangement whereby the work will soon be resumed.

The Saturday meeting of Scottish delegates, which decided to cease work, was taking place at the same time as a similar meeting in Cardiff among South Wales mining delegates, where the decision to continue work was reached.

South Wales is a much more important coalfield and was, in fact, regarded as the danger point in the situation. The settlement reached there provides grounds for the expectation that to-morrow's meetings in Scotland will lead to a resumption of work.

Abundance of Coal Production Assured.

The Secretary for Mines, Mr. Shinwell, in a statement issued yesterday, emphasised that the danger of a national unheaval on Monday had been averted, and added: "There will be no interference with normal transactions in coal and no interference with exports, and buyers of coal need be under no misapprehension about obtaining supplies. There will be an abundance of coal production."

RUBBER INDUSTRY IN MALAYA.*COOLIE EXODUS CREATING LABOUR DIFFICULTY.

LONDON, Dec. 1.
Attention is being drawn to the report that 25,000 coolies have left the rubber estates in Malaya in a single month owing to a reduction of wages and increased hours.

In the course of a letter to the Financial News, Mr. Maurice Maude, as "an anxious shareholder," foresees a labour difficulty when the price of rubber again goes up.

Mr. Maude suggests that a wholesale exodus could be remedied by the stopping of work on Sundays, which would thus afford to give the coolies a decent living wage owing to the reduced output and increased price of rubber.

He pointed out that the Government has been in constant touch with both sides during the dispute and mentioned that the National Industrial Board had made in regard to the Scottish appeal a similar recommendation to that made in the case of South Wales, namely, that as a temporary settlement pending negotiations there should be no wage reductions and that the "spread-over" principle be adopted.

Actually the agreement reached by the South Wales owners and miners provided for a 7½ hours day of 8 hours daily during the fortnight. This gives 8 hours for a fortnight as against a permissible 60 hours a fortnight, if 7½ hours per day per working week as laid down by the New Coal Mines' Act were adhered to rigidly.

Confidence in Temporary Agreement.

RUOBY, Dec. 1.
In all the English and Welsh coalfields work proceeded as usual to-day.

In Scotland, there was a stoppage in most though not all districts, but hopes are entertained that the situation will be relieved as a result of the conference of the Scottish Coal Trade Conciliation Board, which will meet at Glasgow at noon at the request of the National Union of Scottish Mine Workers.

The utmost confidence is expressed that a temporary if not a final agreement will be reached and the danger of a general stoppage in Scotland averted.

Saturday's decision of the South Wales Miners' Federation, in accepting the district agreement for the "spread-over" of working hours despite the embargo placed on such agreements by the National Miners' Federation in London the previous day, has apparently had a marked effect upon the situation.

It is generally anticipated that when the National Federation meets again on Thursday it will reverse Friday's decision and maintain the "spread-over" in districts where miners desire it.

"Protect Wages and Standards."

The Secretary of the Federation, Mr. A. J. Cook, said yesterday: "It is for each district to consider the position in relation to its own needs, namely, to protect wages and standards."

JUNIOR CRICKET NOTES.

WAS THE UMPIRE RIGHT?

INCIDENT IN SIGNALS-INDIANS MATCH.

[By "L.B.W."]

When a batsman gives a catch behind the stumps, which umpire should give the decision? Personally, I hold that the umpire at the bowler's end should be the one, and on asking several of the Colony's leading players I found that they hold the same view. However, some people have a different view on the matter, and this was the cause of some discussion last Saturday in the Royal Signals-Indians match at Sookunpoo.

L/Cpl. Penny was batting when he apparently hit the ball in trying to glance it, but did not quite get hold of it. The wicket-keeper held the ball and appealed to the umpire at the bowler's end for a catch. The batsman was given out, but he evidently was most dissatisfied about the decision. A few minutes later, his captain came out and protested against the decision, saying that in a matter like this, the square leg umpire should have been consulted.

Now, was that necessary? It is purely a matter of opinion, but I hold that the umpire who ruled the batsman out had a perfect right to do so on his own if he was perfectly sure it was a catch, and I have no doubt he was sure about it; otherwise the benefit of the doubt would have been given to the batsman. It was said that the batsman in question has played cricket for about six years and has never been known to grumble unless he had grounds to do so, but it is interesting to note that the umpire in question has about 10 years' experience behind him, and he ought to know what he was doing, if that is any argument at all.

The game itself was a runaway affair for the Indians. Arcull was bowling very well at the start, and the result was that he sent the first five batsmen back to the pavilion before very many runs had been made. This, coupled with the fact that the fielding of the I.R.C. fellows was very keen, explains the fact that the signalers were all out so cheaply.

The other league engagement of the afternoon—the Police versus Orangemen match—ended in a draw. I fully expected the former to win, but they are one of those teams which, unfortunately, depend on a few men to do all the run getting and get all the wickets. Years ago, they were a team who could take on any eleven in the competition, but then those were the far off days when the Earnshaw played regularly for them. King no longer turns out regularly, and though Alexander is carrying on the good work, he cannot be expected to do everything for them.

The friendly match between Kowloon C.C. and Civil Service C.C. resulted, unexpectedly, in a win for the latter who were playing at home. I understand that F. E. Skinner played a very good innings, though he still nibbled at that off ball now and again. Mackay was playing quite well when he had the misfortune to be out of his crease, and a ball coming back from the stumps pads disturbed the ball. For the Civil Service, E. W. Hamilton got four wickets for just over four runs apiece. If he stays with the seconds, he will get quite a number of wickets, as his vast experience in first division cricket ought to stand him in good stead. I notice that A. E. Wood is also figuring among the second division batsmen these days, and though his days may be over as regards senior cricket, he certainly ought to be able to make some runs among the junior players.

Club de Recreo cracked up against the H.K.C.C. seconds and although their match with Kowloon this week will be in the nature of a friendly, it will be watched with interest, as both teams are very strong and their meeting should produce some good cricket. Civil Service Cricket Club open their League programme this week when they receive the Orangemen juniors, and provided they field the same team as they did against Kowloon, I fully expect them to win. As far as I know, the only other match in the friendly between the I.R.C. and T.A.S.C. is expected to take place on Saturday. The former will not have another League engagement till early in January though in the meantime they will have a crop of friends.

MUKDEN'S NEW STADIUM.

500 METRE TRACK OR SKATING RINK.

The new stadium at Mukden, has just been completed. It has a field and track arena and a baseball ground, with the prospect of tennis courts being added early next spring. The stadium has an area of 33,000 sq. metres and it cost about ¥ 185,000. It is 500 metres around, with a 100 metre straight course. The track is encircled with a concrete wall, 4 metres high to shield the ground from the wind. The main stand has a capacity for 5,000, and the back stand, also made in concrete, can accommodate 10,000 people.

A peculiar feature is that the main stand is about 2 metres above the track. Underneath the main stand, people may witness through glass the skaters on the rink in winter. The ground will be formally opened next spring with matches among the Manchukuo Club and the Businessmen's Team, Dairen, and the Manchukuo Club, Mukden.

In winter, the 500 metre track can be converted into a skating rink, on which hockey and figure skating may be conducted. In short, the new stadium may take its place as the foremost of its kind in the Orient.

U.S. FOOTBALL FOR CHARITY.

CARDINALS BEATEN BY THE BEARS.

[UNITED PRESS.]

Chicago, Nov. 27.—"All-star" teams of Notre Dame and Northwestern battled through to a scoreless tie today in a charity football game here. The day was cold and the turn-out was accordingly small.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Joe Savoldi, playing full-back in the provisional line-up of the professional Chicago Bears football team, made the only touchdown for his team today and enabled the Bears to defeat the Cardinals by a score of 6-0.

While this deed brought Savoldi to the attention of a different complexion when he slugged Kennedy of the Cardinals and brought a 15-yard penalty to the Bears.

69-HOUR SWIM BY A STUDENT.

INDIAN BREAKS THE WORLD RECORD.

Shafit Ahmed, a twenty-five year-old Indian student of Osmania University, Hyderabad, arrived in London in a police ambulance last month, and went straight to bed, where he is to stay for three days and nights.

Two hours earlier he had clambered from the Corporation Swimming Baths at Worthing, after having broken the world's swimming endurance record by swimming continuously for 69hrs. 11mins.

Shafit broke the existing record of 68hrs. 11mins made by a Maltese named Hizzo.

Throughout a long Saturday evening the swimmer was cheered on by hundreds of people who crowded into the baths, and he went up and down the baths monotonously to the strains of a jazz band.

Channel Aspirant.

"Shafit was sent over here to make an attempt to swim the Channel," said Mr. J. W. Jennings, his manager, "but the weather conditions have been so adverse that while he was waiting he would attack the endurance record."

"He has only been swimming for eighteen months, and in India once remained in the water for twenty-seven hours."

"Shafit will remain in bed for three days, and before going home is to make his attempt on the Channel. He was quite fresh, and did not have to be assisted from the water."

During his three days and nights in the water Shafit was fed on chicken broth. He shaved while floating in the water, and also held conversation in broken English with the onlookers.

EASTERN NEWS IN BRIEF.

PARS FROM EVERYWHERE.

According to the Sinwanpao, Yen Hsi Shan and Feng Yu Hsiang are to go abroad next week. Marshal Chang Hsueh Liang having promised them safe conduct.

The Chinese Press again reports that Mr. Wang Ching Wei, leader of the Left Wing of the Kuomintang has secretly left Tientsin for abroad, accompanied by Mrs. Wang.

According to the Chinese Press, an executive member of the Kuomintang and a wealthy Cantonese merchant have been deported from the Dutch East Indies. They are to arrive in Shanghai soon.

In view of the report that pirates of Bias Bay have left their lair with an intention of resuming their activities, the Customs authorities in Swatow have withheld the permission for the shipping of silver from that port for the time being, reports the native press.

Alleging that the French marines stationed at the Sicaswei Roman Catholic Church are a nuisance to the Chinese community, the public organizations of the village have requested the Shanghai Chinese authorities to approach the French Consul for the immediate withdrawal of the marines from Sicaswei, reports the Chinese Press.

In spite of China's vigorous protests against the detention by the Soviet Government of 105 bags of Chinese mails during the Sino-Russian fighting, the Soviet Government has failed to return these mails to China with the result that the Chinese Post Office has again requested the Waichiao to take up the matter strongly with the Soviet Government.

The Chinese Press says that M. Wilson, the French Minister, has sent a "Note" to the National Government, asking for permission to keep an aeroplane in his Legation. The National Government, says the native Press, has rejected the French Minister's request on the ground that such permission will create a bad precedent and will result in China's air sovereignty being encroached upon.

In accordance with the National Government's decision that government officials must not hold concurrent positions, General Chang Ching Kiang will shortly tender his resignation as chairman of the Chekiang Provincial Government as he is also a member of the Central Government, says a Chinese Press report, which adds that, after General Chang Ching Kiang has resigned, General Chang Chun will be appointed to succeed him while General Wu Ti Chen will succeed General Chang as the Mayor of Greater Shanghai.

OXFORD UNDERGRADUATE ACQUITTED.

CRASH AFTER A BALL.

The case in which Joseph Arthur Grieves, an Oxford undergraduate, was charged with manslaughter, ended at the Old Bailey in his acquittal.

Grieves, while driving some friends from Oxford to have breakfast after the Commemoration Ball, collided with a motor-cycle and two men were killed.

The defence was that the motor-cycle was obscured by a van. The prosecution replied to that by asking, Was it not a crime to trust to the optimistic hope that no-one was in the road?

Sir Patrick Hastings, for Grieves, said:

"It is not a case of a man being drunk or racing down the road. There is no suggestion of a gay party, laughing in each other's arms, joy-riding."

You may feel that he was driving too fast; that he was overtired; that it is desirable the authorities at Oxford should say "undergraduates who have been up all night should not go out in cars in the morning, but I sincerely urge you will not for the rest of his life make this young man stand convicted of felony."

Mr. Justice Wright said speed at the proper time and place might be perfectly innocent and harmless. It was speed at the wrong time and place, dashing round corners, that was dangerous. It was no use saying a driver's intention was to get to a place in such a case he had no right to be driving. The jury, after retiring for half an hour, found Grieves not guilty, and he was discharged.

RESTRICTION OF IMMIGRATION.

FURTHER TIGHTENING BY U.S. FORECAST.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Further tightening of America's restriction of immigration was forecast here to-day when definite plans for excluding Filipinos, American's wards, were described. The new restriction scheme includes restriction against immigration of Latin-Americans.

The exclusion of Filipinos, Europeans and Latin-Americans for the two fiscal years beginning with July 1, 1931, as a precaution in the United States will be proposed by Senator David Reed, Republican of Pennsylvania, when the "lame duck" session of congress convenes next week.

Senator Reed views his restriction plan as a non-partisan issue. He asserts it already has received the support of Mr. James J. Davis, Secretary of Labour. The scheme provides for the entrance into the United States for the next few years of immigrants who have immediate relatives to receive them.

Discussing the delicate Filipino angle of his plan to-day, Senator Reed said:

"Clearly, this would admit an unlimited number of Filipinos because there are now so many on the Pacific Coast who could call upon their relatives to enter. Filipinos are entering the United States in increasing numbers and they are settling on the Pacific Coast. But this would offset all we have done and propose to do toward restricting the entry of European, Central American and Latin-American immigrants."

In endorsing the plan of Senator Reed to-day, Secretary Davis said that it merely envisaged what the Immigration Bureau has long proposed as an emergency measure.

The French submarine Prometheus was launched at Cherbourg last month. She is 99 metres long, displaces 1,550 tons on the surface, and 2,000 tons under water, and carries 12 torpedo-tubes, one 4in. gun, a smaller gun, and a machine-gun. She can cruise for thirty days. France's naval programme includes 15 similar submarines, of which two are in the course of construction.

WAR OPENED ON RACKETEERS.

U.S. ADOPTS STERN ACTION AGAINST GANGSTERS.

[UNITED PRESS.]

New York, Nov. 23.—War against "racketeers" was declared in the United States to-day. The committee of public safety announced the completion of an organization to direct hostilities against the "racket" leaders who are estimated to take an annual toll of $100,000,000 on everything from the cradle to the grave.

American "racketeers" control milk deliveries at one extreme and the operation of funeral homes at the other. They top it all off nicely by collecting tribute from tombstone makers.

The Pinkerton and Burns private detective agencies, as well as other lesser organizations of similar nature, have volunteered to assist the anti-racket campaign without charge.

Levy Collected on Freight.

District Attorney Thomas Crain is playing a leading rôle in the fight against "racketeers." "Al" Capone and his ilk. To-day, Mr. Crain was informed that practically all wharves, except those operated by the United Fruit Company, are in the grip of the "racketeers." Their owners are forced by the gangland leaders to pay levies of three cents a ton on all freight handled on the wharves under threat of strikes and sabotage.

Mr. Crain told newspapermen to-day that the merchants, who have been bled by "racketeers" for a number of years, are now rebelling. Some expect attacks from gangdom because of the offensive against the "racketeers." Police protection has been arranged for those who are co-operating with the public safety committee and its allied agencies. Municipal and state governments throughout the country are interested, as is the Federal Government in Washington. In Chicago—capital of the racket experts—there is to be a campaign similar to that being waged in New York.

Every effort is to be made to obtain the support of public opinion on behalf of the agencies which are victimizing businessmen, large and small.

"Scarface" Al Interviewed.
Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 23.—A man, introduced as "Scarface" Al Capone, America's premier gangland leader and "racketeer" magnate, to-day received newspaper reporters at a ranch near Los Angeles.

The man alleged to be Capone is being sought by police throughout the land. Reporters were convinced that, in truth, he is Capone.

The man denied that Chicago "racketeers" are operating against shipment of California grapes into the Windy City. He blamed a New York importing firm for current reports that Chicago beer runners oppose the attempts of Chicago citizens to ferment their own wine.

PLOTS TO KILL KING CAROL.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK THE ROYAL TRAIN.

Viewed.—It was revealed last month that an attempt was made to kill King Carol of Rumania on his return journey to Bucharest from the university celebration at Klausenburg in Transylvania.

On the critical night a number of goods wagons were shunted on to the main line, over which the royal train was to pass.

An hour before the train was due a locomotive, proceeding slowly near Kronstadt (Transylvania), struck the wagons and wrecked five of them.

A delay of some hours was caused to the royal train, but the danger to the King's life was averted.

Information in the hands of the police shows that the wagons were shunted on to the main line by a Communist railway employee.

This was the second time within a week that a plot against the King had been disclosed. During the round-up of alleged spies in Bucharest, a map was found showing the route to be followed by the King at the opening of Parliament. Parts of the route were marked with crosses, and it was believed that these points bomb attacks had been planned.
